WILLIAMS IS DEPOSED

Republicans Claiming to be Third District Committee Take Summary Action.

ELECT LUCE, OF GOOCHLAND

Williams Committee Holds Session and Convention Will Meet To-day.

Well known Republicans claiming to be the Third District Republican Com-mittee, met yesterday in this city and deposed Chairman Miles M. Williams, mittee, met vesterday in this city and deposed Chairman Miles M. Williams, electing in his stead John G. Luce, of Goochland county. They also determined to call a convention of Third District. Republicans to be held at West Point, August 20th, to consider the matter of nominating a candidate for Congress. Several names have been mentioned for the congressional nomination, but so lar there has been no agreement upon any one of these.

The action summarized above was taken by the eight members of the district committee, selected by people of the counties and cities of the district last February, and claimed to be the regular committee, Chairman Miles M. Williams, who was chosen at West Point at the March convention, declined to recognize the eight men who deposed him as the regular committee and announces the names of eight other Renew committee.

Both committees met yesterday at nooin the same building, and is different rooms, and there took the action stated. Mr. Williams had been notified by the committee named last February, that they would convene themselves in Ford's Law Building at noon yesterday. In the purpose of considering the matter of mominating a candidate for Congress and to act upon certain written charges certified against him. He rented a room in Ford's Law Building and sent the committee down stairs, word that he was ready to preside. He was informed that the committee declined to go to the chairman refused to go to the committee and the committee and the result of the meeting were in session down stairs, and awaited his presence. The chairman refused to go to the committee and the committee and the committee and the committee and not a condition to the committee and the commi

Meeting of the "Ins."

The "Ins" or Treat faction convened at noon in Ford's law building with all the members present except W. H. Brisbee, of New Kent, and James H. Haynes, of Richmond, and they were represented by proxies. The names of the other committeemen are: M. J. Enright, of Goochland; S. Isalah Mann, of Chesterledi: Hansford Anderson, of West, Point; William Haw, of Hanover, and L. B. Llayd, of Manchester.

When the committee had convened itself, word was sent to Chairman Williams, that the committee was sitting and where it would sit, and he requested to be present. He returned word that he had engaged a room upstairs and the committee would sit there.

The Treat Committee declined to go to the chairman, and instead organized by naming Hansford Anderson, of King Villan.

y naming Hansford Anderson, or Ams.

I any the "".

The charges against Chairman Williams were read, and Mr. Morgun Treat adiressed the committee. Testimony was idduced with a view to substantiating the charges of a buse and assumption of power by Mr. Williams and of alleged mistatements by him in his official capacity. A certificate was also read from Judge L. L. Lewis, who presided over the Third District convention at Norfolk, declaring that C. P. Snead was elected executive committeeman, and not Edgar Allan, Jr. as claimed by the Williams faction.

Williams Is Denoged.

Williams Is Deposed. Williams Is Deposed.

After Introducing this testimeny before the committee and likewise official letters of Chairman Williams in conflict with the certificates adduced, the committee voted without a dissenting votes to depose Chairman Williams, and the vote to do this was declared carried. The matter of the selection of a chairman to succeed Mr. Williams, was next in order. Mr. John G. Luce, of Goochland county, an official of the Planters National Bank, of this city, was unanimously elected.

The chairman-elect was notified of his county, an official of the Planters National Bank, of this city, was unanimously, elected.

The chairman-elect was notified of his selection and escored into the hall, where he at once assumed the duties of the chair.

Two members of the committee—J. D. Pearman, of Henrico, and L. B. Lloyd, of Manchester-lendered their resignations, one being a rural carrier and the other a government employe. They preferred not to participate actively in politics under these conditions. Their resignations were accepted, and S. C. Scott, of Henrico, elected to succeed Pearman and T. H. Smith, of Manhester, to succeed L. B. Lloyd.

Mr. Treat moved that the committee call a district convention to consider and calcide the question of making a nomination for Congress, and that the convention make a nomination for Congress.

There being no other suggestion on the subject, the motion of Mr. Treat was put and carried. It was decided that the basis of representation in the district convention be fixed at one delegate for every two hundred votes cast in the district for William McKinley in 1900. This basis was agreed upon, and the convention will therefore consist of forty-one delegates, and each city and county, to the same number, as in the convention will therefore consist of forty-one delegates, and each city and county, to the same number, as in the convention will therefore consist of forty-one delegates, and each city and county, to the same number, as in the convention at West Politicals of the province of the subject of the same number, as in the convention at the Teat convention as the convention as the subject of the same number, as in the convention at the Teat convention on an upper floor, presenting in a room on an upper floor, presenting in a room on an upper floor, pre-

Williams Faction Acts.

Meanwhile the Williams committee was sitting in a room on an upper floor, presumably awaiting the filling of charges against the chairman or the prosecution of those chaires. There were present, besides the chairman, Jeff. H. Powell, secretary of the committee; W. H. Brisble, of New Kent; J. J. Hall, of Goochland; O. W. Savory, of Manchester; J. A. Nunnally, of Chesterfield; W. T. Light, toot, of Hanover; John S. Defarge of King William, and Paul F. Newell, of Henrico, all of whom, it is claimed, had been regularly chosen members of the district committee.

Chairman Williams called this alleged committee to order. He inquired if there was any contest to be brought before the committee, and receiving no answer, concluded there was none, and so declared the committee, and receiving no answer, concluded the contestants down stairs that it was ready for business, and inviting the Treat faction to appear before it. If they desired to make any contest. The invitation was declined. The Williams convention will be held to-day.

ARE BUSY QUALIFYING

Members of the Council to Pro-

Contrary to a loug-established custom in Richmond, members-elect of the City Council are this year getting their certificates of election from the clerk of the Hustings Court before presenting themselves before a judge or the Mayor for qualification. Heretofore many members-elect have qualified for office before a judge of a court record without asking the certificate, and as the judge knew the candidate for qualification had been elected none was required. It is not the duty, however, of the clerk of the Hustings Court to send these certificates to the members-elect, but simply to furnish them at his office upon application. This Mr. Christian is prepared to do, Mr. Christian has not failed to do anything in this matter that the law requires him to do.
